An offer from Hester Cheong...

If you were at the Fellowship Meeting last month you will have heard Hester talk about the work she has done on researching and developing a technique that can make it easier for us to eat sensibly.

Hester has now put her learnings into an electronic booklet that we will be able to access online through Amazon. This includes recipes she has tested personally - with willing family members – and which they have found genuinely helpful. The “always hungry” feeling eases off, and it becomes easier to eat sensibly.

Hester is generously extending an offer to access the booklet at no cost from May 30 to June 3 2025.
